Westbridge Welcomes New Hire Heather Morois as Southwest Regional Product Representative

Vista, CA. Westbridge Agricultural Products, a California manufacturer of TRIGGRR®, BioLink®, SUNBurst® and Earthtrend® fertilizers, biological pesticides and adjuvants, is pleased to introduce the newest addition to their sales representative team. Heather Morois, of Southern California, joined the company in August and will be the regional product representative for Southern California and Arizona.

Growing up in Riverside County, Heather became interested in agriculture through raising livestock and attending leadership events in Future Farmers of America. Heather majored in Food Marketing & Agribusiness Management while attending Cal Poly Pomona and, soon after, became a licensed Pest Control Advisor (PCA).

Heather brings to Westbridge energy and enthusiasm. She has been involved with production agriculture in California and Arizona for several years while currently specializing in organic and sustainable farming. "What brought me to Westbridge was their strong product lines and their commitment to plant health."

For questions in the Southern California and Arizona areas regarding Westbridge products, please contact Heather at (949) 429-9944.
